

FRIDAY, MARCH 26 · 6:30 PM

Chris Cleave is a columnist for The Guardian newspaper in London. Little Bee, his second novel, is currently at the top of the New York Times paperback fiction best-seller list. The harrowing but often funny story of an unlikely friendship between a Nigerian teenaged girl and London housewife, Little Bee was short listed for the prestigious Costa Award for Best Novel and is on numerous lists for "Best Books of 2009." His debut novel, Incendiary, was published in twenty countries and was short listed for or won several literary prizes. Cleave lives in London with his French wife and three children.
